Your Canvas Should Breathe

If you want your tent to last, you need high quality components, designed, sewn, used and maintained by experts

STOUT TENT

ONLINE COMPETITON

Nothing ruins an outdoor event faster than a broken or stuck zipper, rip in a seam, or a wet night's sleep because of cheap components. That's why we use high quality canvas, with a proven textile treatment to resist heavy rainfalls that won't weaken in a year of exposure. Cheap canvas is frequently coated with plastic (Polyurethanes) in order to help it stay dry. This causes condensation and mold problems inside of the tent and is an ineffective and cheap way to waterproof canvas. We use a highly breathable respected canvas treatment that is designed for sun, rain, wind, and snow. Our tents are built to last.
